Excerpt from Proceedings of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society, 24 November, 1898, to May 23, 1900: With Communications Made to the Society Arabs understood how to give their paper a brown or yellow tint by using saffron or the sap of the sycamore. Violet and red were got from aloe-sap mixed with gum secreted by insects on the cocoa-tree. The use of red paper was a high privilege of exalted persons. Green was also got from aloes. Indigo gave them blue, which they used for paper to roll up medicines in and to write death-sentences upon. I enquired at the British Museum for the oldest Oriental ms. There, and I saw the only one for which an earlier date is claimed, an Arabic codex in much better preservation than these are; it seems to be Of the previous century, ad. 960.
